Thank you for your letter
It’s almost the night before Christmas, and I’ve just received your lovely letter. Just like you, Christmas is my favourite time of the year.

Reading about how good you’ve been this year has put a big smile on my face, keep up the great work because it’s not long now until Christmas Eve!

As we prepare for the big day, it’s all very busy up here in the North Pole. The elves are working round the clock to make all the toys in time for Christmas. So many little boys and girls are on the nice list this year! I’m afraid I can’t say the same about the elves, some of the elves borrowed my camera and returned it a few days later full of sELFies. They are very mischievous elves indeed. You can see one of their sELFies on the front of this card.

On Christmas Eve, you’re one of the very first names on my list to visit, so make sure you go to bed on time. Remember, I won’t be able to stop by your house and deliver your special gifts if you’re awake!

I would love it if you could leave out something for me to drink, I get thirsty when I am delivering presents. Rudolph likes it when you leave out a carrot for him, it is hard work guiding the sleigh on Christmas Eve and he gets grumpy when he’s hungry! In fact, he’s asking me to feed him now, so I’d better get going.

Merry Christmas from me, Mrs Claus, the cheeky elves, Rudolph and the other reindeer!
