This cover could be a wise choice for important legal documents or tax returns that may result in penalties if lost or not delivered on time. Just ask for consequential loss when you send your item by Special Delivery Guaranteed. Make sure your compensation claim is submitted to Royal Mail Customer Services within 14 days of posting. You’ll need to include your Certificate of Posting in order to make a claim.

Consequential loss is not available for goods that are restricted. For more information please see the ‘Prohibited and restricted items’ leaflet.

Sometimes we can’t deliver a parcel or letter because no-one’s home and it’s too big to fit through your letter box or a signature is required. We’ll leave a ‘Something for you card’ to let you know where your item is. Where possible, we’ll aim to leave your item with a neighbour*, but if not we’ll return it to your local Customer Service Point/Delivery Office.

You can either collect your item or you can arrange to have it redelivered to your own address or another local address in your area, free of charge. Alternatively, for a small fee, we can deliver your item to a local Post Office branch.

You can request a redelivery online at royalmail.com/redelivery or by calling the telephone number on your ‘Something for you card’.

To make sure your item is kept safe, we’ll ask you to provide proof of identification as well as your ‘Something for you card’ whenever you collect your item.

We will keep your items at your local Customer Service Point/Delivery Office for 18 days. After this time, we will attempt to return items to the sender.

Where no sender can be found, we will retain the item in our National Returns Centre for a period of one month.

Returning items sent to a wrong address

For mail incorrectly delivered to you, write ‘Delivered to wrong address’ on the item and put it in any Royal Mail postbox.

For mail correctly delivered but to someone who no longer lives there, write ‘Recipient no longer at this address’ and put it in any Royal Mail postbox.

*If you would rather we did not leave your items with a neighbour or you would prefer not to accept items on their behalf, register online at royalmail.com/out or call 03456 113 420.

Redirection
Need your mail delivered quickly to your new home? Want to help protect yourself against identity theft?
Our Redirection service ensures your mail safely reaches your new address, whether you are making a temporary move or relocating permanently.
You can redirect to any UK or international address for periods of up to 3, 6 or 12 months.
The law prevents us from redirecting certain items such as mail relating to benefits, and there are restrictions on the types of mail we can redirect internationally, such as mail items containing goods and items requiring a signature (e.g. Special Delivery Guaranteed) overseas. Mail can also be redirected for someone who has passed away or for whom you have power of attorney.
For this service, you will need to fill out our ‘Special Circumstances’ application form.

PO Box®
A PO Box® allows you to collect your parcels and letters at a time and place that is convenient for you.
It is a private and reliable delivery solution for people who travel abroad regularly, buy goods online, frequently receive confidential or private mail and for people living in shared accommodation.
Your mail is held at your local Delivery Office until you are ready to pick it up. For an additional fee, we offer extra services such as having your PO Box® mail delivered to your home address.
To order an application form for a PO Box®, visit royalmail.com/poboxes

Royal Mail Keepsafe®
Going away? Don’t advertise your holiday plans with a pile of mail building up on the door mat.
We can hold onto your household or business mail for up to three months while you’re away and deliver it when you return.
Keepsafe takes just five days to set up and helps prevent identity fraud.

Addressing your item

In order to deliver a parcel or letter, we need to have an accurate address complete with postcode. Please ensure the address is written clearly and is laid out like the diagram below. Remember to include a return address on the reverse of the parcel or letter, in case there are any issues when we try to deliver.

UK Address

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Mr R Smith</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1 Chapel Hill</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Heswall</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BOURNEMOUTH</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BH1 1AA</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

All lines of the address should be left justified with no punctuation separating the address elements.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Line 1: Addressee’s name</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Line 2: Name/number and street name</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Line 3: Locality name, if required</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Line 4: POST TOWN, please print in capitals</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Line 5: POSTCODE, please print in capitals, in full, and on a separate line</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

You do not need to include a county name provided the POST TOWN and POSTCODE are used.

International Address

When sending an item internationally, the country name should be written in CAPITALS, in English, as the last line of the address.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Sr. C. Fernandez</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Av das A’Augsa Livres</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monté Trigo</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7220 Portel</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>PORTUGAL</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Ideally, the destination address should contain:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Line 1: Name of the person and/or organisation you are sending the package to</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Line 2: Building number and street or road name</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Line 3: Place name</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Line 4: Name of province, state, department and postal code (if appropriate)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Line 5: Name of the COUNTRY in capitals</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Lines should all start at the same point. Do not centre or stagger them.

Please include a return address on the letter or parcel – somewhere where it can’t be confused with the destination address – so it can be returned to you if there’s a problem delivering it. For parcels, it’s helpful to include the addressee’s telephone number to assist in delivery.

N.B. Royal Mail has no liability to pay any compensation if the reason why an item could not be delivered is because it does not contain a full and accurate address, including the postcode. For more details, please refer to page 36.
General Prohibitions and Restrictions
There are certain items and substances that we cannot accept and must not be sent by customers. This is to comply with national and international regulations governing the carriage of mail, to protect the health, safety and wellbeing of our employees, customers and the general public.

What are the prohibitions?
‘Dangerous Goods’ form the largest proportion of prohibited items and they are articles or substances which are capable of posing a risk to health, safety, property or the environment. Regulations prohibit the majority of dangerous goods in the mail. We also prohibit other items for legal reasons, or where in our opinion they may be harmful or dangerous to our customers or employees. All countries that you post to internationally will have their own prohibitions and restrictions, so you should check specific country restrictions before sending your parcel.

What are the restrictions?
There are some items that can be carried only when specific requirements are met. All restricted items must be presented at a Post Office branch so we can confirm your item meets these conditions. If you are posting to international destinations there may be other specific items that are not accepted by certain countries. Prohibited and restricted items include, but are not limited to; aerosols, alcoholic beverages, all types of batteries, Christmas crackers, electronic items, lighters, liquids, matches, medicines, nail varnish, paints, perfumes and perishables. You are responsible for checking whether or not an item is prohibited or restricted. Information is available from the “Prohibited and restricted items” leaflet in Post Office branches, which details some of the more common prohibitions and restrictions. Up-to-date information is available from royalmail.com/prohibitedandrestricted or parcelforce.com/help-and-advice/sending/prohibitions-and-restrictions

If you send prohibited items or restricted items (and you do not comply with the relevant restricted requirements) we may deal with the goods as we see fit, including, but not limited to, disposing of the parcels concerned (in whole or in part). Failure to comply with the regulations could result in prosecution.

Packaging and wrapping
There are certain items that need to be packed more carefully before they are sent through the post. Wrapping and packaging advice, both general and item specific can be found at royalmail.com/wrapping

International sanctions

Our customers send mail around the world every day. However, a number of countries and international organisations, including the United Kingdom and the European Union, impose certain restrictions, also known as sanctions, on what you can send to certain individuals, organisations or countries.

Sanctions can take many forms but are generally aimed at preventing certain goods, services, finance and knowledge being supplied to particular recipients.

Rules on sanctions

It is your responsibility to check whether the item you wish to post breaks any sanctions rules.

If you break the sanctions rules, we can deal with your postal items in a number of ways including disposing of them.

You may also face investigation by the relevant authorities.

Where can I find out more information?

If you are sending mail from the United Kingdom, the UK Government’s dedicated sanctions website at gov.uk/sanctions-embargoes-and-restrictions provides useful information, including links to relevant information, published by the United Nations (UN) and the European Union (EU).

The Government’s website includes information on the following:

Countries that are subject to sanctions

Over recent years these countries have included those listed below.

However, the list changes and you should check a country’s status before posting an item.

Afghanistan, Azerbaijan, Armenia, Belarus, Burma (Myanmar), China, Democratic Republic of Congo, Egypt, Eritrea, Republic of Guinea (Conakry), Guinea-Bissau, Haiti, Iran, Iraq, Ivory Coast, North Korea, Lebanon, Liberia, Libya, Sierra Leone, Somalia, South Sudan, Sudan, Syria, Tunisia, Ukraine (Crimea/Sebastopol) and Zimbabwe.
For countries subject to sanctions, there are specific restrictions in place on sending certain types of goods. These are often goods that can be used for military or dual-use purposes. If you are posting items to any sanctioned country, you must make sure you are allowed to send the item to that country.

Individuals and organisations that are subject to sanctions

The UK Government maintains a list of individuals and organisations (for example, banks or utility companies or terrorist organisations) that are subject to sanctions, recognised by the UK (which includes sanctions originating from the EU and the UN).

It is generally prohibited to have dealings with these ‘designated’ individuals and organisations, for example, sending money or goods to them.

They are often individuals and organisations linked to, or based in, the countries mentioned earlier.

However, they may be based anywhere in the world, including the UK. You should seek specialist advice if you wish to post items to a designated individual or organisation.

The list of designated individuals and organisations can be found at royalmail.com/international-sanctions

Please note that none of the above is intended as legal advice and should not be seen as an exhaustive description of the sanctions rules that may apply to you, or the items you are posting.

Customs declaration form

The UK has left the EU customs union*, items / goods sent to the EU now need to be treated the same as items sent to any rest of the world destination.

Do you need a Customs declaration form?

You DON’T need to complete a Customs declaration form if you’re sending:

- Letters, postcards and documents alone

You DO need to complete a Customs declaration form if you’re sending:

- Small packets and packages containing goods or gifts
- Packages containing goods to the Channel Islands (even though the postage rates to the Channel Islands are the same as for the UK)
- If you are sending items by the Printed Papers service, we advise you to complete and sign a Customs declaration form. It’s compulsory if you are sending books to many destinations
- The Customs Declaration form must be completed correctly and clearly, otherwise items may be delayed or even returned by customs authorities in the receiving country

Parcelforce Worldwide

For up-to-date information on the documents required when sending with Parcelforce Worldwide, please visit parcelforce.com/customs

VAT requirements for businesses

For proof of export purposes, you should provide HM Revenue and Customs with proof of posting (you can get this from any Post Office branch). Alternatively, a Customs Certificate of Posting form can be obtained by calling HM Revenue and Customs National Advice Service on 0300 200 3700 or visiting gov.uk. These forms must be signed and date stamped by a member of Post Office staff at the time of posting.
General Customs information

- All mail items may be examined by Customs.
- Mail containing only letters, documents or other forms of correspondence do not require a Customs declaration form.
- You must not send any item addressed to a country in which the item is prohibited. Restrictions vary from country to country. You are responsible for checking whether an item is prohibited. See royalmail.com/countries-a-to-z.
- Goods up to the value of £270 – if you do need a Customs declaration form, you should use the CN22 form. If you are sending an item using either International Tracked, Tracked & Signed, or the Signed only option use the unbarcoded CN22. If you are sending items using International Standard or Economy use the CN22 with the barcode on the bottom of the form. You’ll need to fill in all the details on the Customs declaration and ensure that it is signed and dated. The CN22 should be placed as close as possible to the top left hand corner on the front of the item.
- Goods worth £270 or more – in this case you should use the CN23 form. The CN23 form must include details of postage and other fees such as insurance.
- Ask for the adhesive plastic envelope SP126 to attach the form to your package.
- Depending on the value of the goods, you may need one or two copies of Customs declarations. Please check at your Post Office branch.
- Customs declaration forms are available from any Post Office branch. If you are using either International Tracked & Signed, International Tracked or International Signed you can also download them from royalmail.com/customs.

Export licences

For some goods, you need an export licence from the Department for Business before you are allowed to export them. To find out which goods are affected, just call 020 7215 4594.

Where is it going?

We aim to deliver daily to over 99.9% of the 30 million addresses in the UK. However, there are a few addresses where we are unable to deliver due to exceptional circumstances and where the safety of our staff may be at risk. Our exceptions policy has been agreed with our regulator.

Postcode changes

Our Postcode Address File (PAF) holds details of every address and postcode in the UK. On rare occasions, we are required to change postcodes. If this becomes necessary, we will write to you directly and advertise the change in the local press.

For more information on postcode changes, download the PAF Code of Practice from: royalmail.com/postcode-finder and refer to the ‘Need help’ section.

If you’re sending money in the post, here’s how to make sure it arrives safely:

If you need to send money or jewellery, you must use Special Delivery Guaranteed as this will enable you to claim compensation in the unlikely event of loss or damage. Money should be packaged securely and should not be visible from the outside. Do not indicate anywhere on the packaging that money is enclosed. Coins should never be sent in envelopes – our automated sorting machinery may damage envelopes containing coins, which can lead to delay in delivery and increase the likelihood of the contents being lost.

Complaints, claims and compensation

If an item of mail you have posted with Royal Mail is lost, damaged or delayed and you have met the conditions of posting, you may have a claim for compensation. This section covers what compensation is available and how you can make a claim for lost, damaged or delayed stamped and franked items. There are different rules for items sent by customers who have a Royal Mail business account. For more information, please visit royalmail.com/terms-and-conditions

Where compensation is excluded:
- Incorrectly addressed mail items

- Where the item is posted with another postal operator
- In severe weather conditions

Making a claim

How much can you claim?
You can claim the actual cost of the item to you, i.e. what it cost you to acquire, purchase or manufacture the item (or repair in the event of damage) – up to a maximum of its market value or up to the maximum compensation payable for the service, whichever is the lower of these.

To support any claim, we will require both the evidence of posting and evidence of the cost to you such as receipts, invoices, PayPal® records, manufacturing costs, auctioneer’s valuation and repair costs in the case of damage claims.

How to make a claim
Our online claim form makes claiming for loss, damaged or delayed items easy. Visit royalmail.com/claims and complete the easy-to-use form. This gives you the option to make multiple claims with minimal effort. You’ll also find all the supporting information you need such as our loss, damage and delay compensation policies, or to find out more about our complaint handling standards.

Alternatively, you can get in touch with our Customer Services Team by telephone. However you’ll still need to send us your supporting claim evidence.

If you need to make a claim with Parcelforce Worldwide, log on to parcelforce.com or collect a claim form from the counter. All UK claims must be received within 30 days of dispatch. International claims must be made within the following timescales: 15 days of dispatch for global express; 30 days of dispatch for ireland express and global priority; and 120 days of dispatch for global value and BFPO. For further information relating to Parcelforce’s claims please visit parcelforce.com

Complaints procedure (how to get in touch)

Not happy with our service?
This section relates to Royal Mail products and services only. If you are unhappy with a product or service provided by Royal Mail, you can get in touch with our Customer Services Team in a number of ways, including email, letter and telephone.

Our complaints handling procedure
Royal Mail has a complaints handling procedure which conforms to the postal industry guidelines laid down by our regulator.
You can obtain a copy of our complaints handling procedure by visiting our website at royalmail.com/customer-services or by contacting our Customer Services Team.

We will try to resolve your issue when you initially contact our Customer Services Team.

However, if you are not satisfied with the response you receive, you can ask to have your complaint escalated.

Royal Mail has an internal review panel which can take a fresh look at your complaint if you remain unhappy with the outcome.

Royal Mail aims to acknowledge and resolve all problems as quickly as we can. However, some enquiries can take longer to conclude, particularly if they concern lost post.

We aim to resolve enquiries relating to UK (inland) postal services, including getting our response to you, within 30 calendar days of receipt of your initial complaint and supply of all necessary information.

Many straightforward claims will be resolved more quickly.

Claims relating to international postal services often take in excess of three months to resolve because international postal operators have up to three months in which to respond to a request for information.

If your issue cannot be resolved under our complaints handling procedure, Royal Mail is a member of the ‘Postal Redress Service’ (‘POSTRS’). This is an independent body to which you can refer a complaint relating to certain products and services if:

• Our complaints handling procedure has been exhausted without your issue being resolved to your satisfaction, or
• Your issue is not resolved within the time period set out in our complaints handling procedure

If your complaint reaches a stage where access to POSTRS is an appropriate option, we will provide you with full details of the service, so that you can decide whether you wish to refer your complaint.

For free, independent, confidential and impartial advice on consumer issues, visit adviceguide.org.uk or call the Citizens Advice® consumer helpline on 03454 040 506.

Citizens Advice® is an independent organisation which can offer you free advice on how to complain. However, they cannot make a complaint or claim on your behalf, nor provide general advice on specific Royal Mail products and services.
